ARRANGING DETAILS

President Mitchell Will Have Everything Ready for Convention.

Eight Hundred Delegates Are Expected to Attend—No Change in Situation.

WASHINGTON CO. HIGHWAYMEN

MONDAY'S CONVENTION.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 18.—President Mitchell is today engaged in arranging for the convention Monday. There is a considerable amount of work to be done in preparing to handle the body of 800 delegates, but all the details will be completed by tomorrow. Mitchell is also engaged in preparing his address to the convention. There have been no new developments today in the strike situation.

HIGHWAYMAN REPORTED DEAD

Harrodsburg, Oct. 18.—One of the highwaymen who held up Allen Kayes in this county is reported dead at his home in Washington county, and the other is at the point of death. It is said that when their names become known it will create a sensation because of their prominence.

DEMOCRAT WITHDRAWS

New Castle, Ky., Oct. 18.—Hon. G. Allison Holland, of Eminence, has withdrawn from the Democratic race for nomination for representative from this district.

CLOSE CALL FOR SMITH.

COLONEL HOBSON NOTIFIED OF AN OLD FRIEND'S MISFORTUNE.

Colonel H. H. Hobson has received a long distance telephone message informing him of the narrow escape of "Panther" John Smith, who resides on Panther creek in Graves county, about seven miles below Mayfield. Yesterday as Smith was driving his team of steers across Panther creek bridge, at the intersection of Panther and Bacon creeks, the bridge gave away and team, driver and all went down. Smith escaped, but lost his team of steers and two large sacks of meal which he had just procured at the mill. Col. Hobson and Smith were intimate friends many years ago and the Colonel regretted to learn of the accident, but was glad to find that Smith escaped unhurt. The team died from injuries sustained in the twenty foot fall.

IN A SKIFF

CAPT. O. BAUER CAME FROM GOLCONDA IN FIVE HOURS.

Captain O. Bauer of Golconda arrived in the city in a skiff yesterday, having made the trip in about as short a time as there is on record. He was brought down in a "ollaker built" skiff by Mr. Ed Lookabee of Golconda, and the trip was made in exactly five hours and fifteen minutes, from the time the boat left the wharf at Golconda until she reached the wharf here. This is time that steamboats might be proud of, and the distance was somewhat increased by the low stage of water, the river men estimating the trip at about thirty-five miles. Mr. Bauer will not return the same way, but is very proud of the time made in the trip down.

PRESIDENT FISH HERE

Big Illinois Central Officials Passed Through Paducah Today.

A New Paymaster—Grading on the Cairo Extension Is Progressing Well.

A FEW RAILROAD NOTES

President Stayvassant Fish and Second Vice President J. T. Harshman, of the Illinois Central, Chicago, passed through the city this morning at 7 o'clock en route to Louisville from the south, on a regular inspection tour. They came through on a special train of four cars and remained here only a few minutes—long enough to change engines. There were several other persons, stockholders of the company, aboard the train but no more officials of the road accompanied them. The regular party broke up at Memphis and Mr. Cornelius Vanderbilt went south to New Orleans. The party that passed through this morning is only a few of the original party that started out from Chicago about one week ago.

Mr. O. M. Dunn, the assistant general manager of southern lines of the Illinois Central, met them at the depot here and proceeded up the Louisville division, his car following on train No. 123, the Louisville and Fulton accommodation passenger train. Superintendent G. A. Clark and Trainmaster O. M. Sewell, of the Tennessee division of the road, met them at Memphis and came as far as Paducah on the special. This is the first time the president of the road has come through in many months. As far as the trip has gone, everything has been found in the very best condition and the road never made a better showing than at present.

Engine 1541, one of the shop yard engines, "ran away" today at noon while Engineer Mike Erwin was at dinner but was fortunately caught before any damage was done. The engine was standing by the water tank when she started, apparently without any cause, and was going at a good speed when caught by Switchman Rudolph Kittenger who happened to be near. It is thought that the throttle was out of order, as some times this is the case. The engine had run from the tank nearly to Broadway before it was stopped by Kittenger.

Mr. Boh Delosch, engineer of switch engine No. 182, met with a painful accident yesterday at noon while wetting coal in the tank of the engine. He was using hot water and in some way the water was out off and steam came through. His neck and breast were badly scalded but the injuries are not considered serious. He is off duty as a result of the accident.

The contractors on the Cairo branch of the Illinois Central say they will have completed the grading on the Rotgering farm, where such a delay has been occasioned, within the next week. The work of laying track will then progress rapidly as will the grading work.

The cards announcing the time of the coming of the pay car, on the 21st of the month, bear the signature of W. Newell, paymaster, who has been appointed in the place of Paymaster L. O. Batta. This is the first notification of the change to the local officials.

Trainmaster A. M. Shaw and Supervisor Martin Crahan, of the Louisville division of the I. O., were in the city today on business.

DR COYLE HURT.

FORMER CITY PHYSICIAN KICKED BY HIS HORSE.

Dr. J. E. Coyle, former city physician, is laid up from a kick received in front of his office at Court and Third this morning about 7:30 o'clock. He had just come down and had gotten out of his buggy, when his horse kicked him on the right knee. He was taken home and Dr. Wolfe attended him. He is laid up, but fortunately not seriously and no bones were broken.

WEEK'S NEWS IN THE BUSINESS WORLD.

Clearings this week $585,211
Same week last year 474,470
Increase 110,741

The clearings this week show a big increase, one of the greatest of the year. Business with the banks has been good all fall, with earnings and deposits showing up very well in comparison with past years.

Wholesale houses report very satisfactory business and manufacturing concerns make the same good report.

Retail trade in dry goods and millinery is good, while other lines have no complaint. Some cold weather, however, would put an impetus to all lines.

The settlement of the coal strike is hailed with delight in Paducah,

LIKES ARMY LIFE.

LOUIS LEVY WILL PROBABLY RE-ENLIST.

Mr. Louis Levy, formerly an electrician here, who left the city about one year ago, is now in Manila with Company I of the 2nd U. S. Infantry, and writes that he has never enjoyed better health than at present and that he is perfectly satisfied with the life in the army. He has two more years to serve and is talking of re-enlisting as soon as his time is out.

PROSECUTOR THREATENED.

DESEPERATE EFFORT TO PREVENT INDICTMENT OF INDIANAPOLIS PHYSICIANS.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 18.—Developments in the investigation of the "graverobbers" cases today took an unexpected turn. Evidence was introduced before the grand jury to show that strong influence is being brought to bear to save half a dozen of the most prominent physicians of Indianapolis from arrest and indictment on the charge of complicity in the commission of the crimes.

Case Conaway, who has been deeply interested in the efforts to bring the offenders to justice, has received threatening letters which declare his life is in danger if he continues the prosecution. It also developed that important letters and papers which were presumed to be at the home of Rufus Centrell, the self-confessed leader of the grave robbers, have disappeared. These letters, Centrell asserted, would furnish sufficient evidence to indict a number of prominent physicians but when search was made for the communications it was found the receptacle in which they had been kept had been forced and the contents stolen.

CHILD PAINFULLY HURT.

The 6 year old daughter of Mrs. Fannie Ord of 408 South Fourth street fell while playing this morning and badly cut her left temple on a piece of wood. Drs. Robertson and Hoyer dressed the injury.

Mr. John Hobson has returned from Louisville, where he went on business.

as elsewhere. While we were not feeling any bad results of it, on the other hand the coal industries of this end of the state, and those in which much Paducah capital is invested, were enjoying a boom as a result of the big demands for soft coal, still the strike settlement is a relief, as it threatened to affect the general prosperity of the country, and when one section of the country suffers all feel it to some degree.

Paducah entertained her guests of the week, the Kentucky Bankers, well, and the city will receive much good advertising as a result.

The big order just received by the Paducah Coal and Mining company from Chicago, mentioned elsewhere, is good news to local people.

BECAME ENTHUSED.

BUT THE YOUNG MAN FAILED TO FIND TRAVELING GOOD.

Last night a well known young man of the city sat in the Palmer house lobby listening to several drummers tell tales of their travels—of the experiences they had while young. Desires of seeing the world, the young man telephoned his employer that he would not be down for work this morning, as he was going away for some time. He straightway made for the I. C. depot and caught the early morning passenger train No. 103 southbound, and took to the blind baggage.

He was put off three times before the train rounded the curve leading from the depot, and the third time he was unloaded the porter, who put him off, lost his balance and missed the train himself. The young man succeeded in getting out of town, but had to take a third class freight and ride the bumpers. He will probably see that this class of "traveling" is not what it is cracked up to be and that the drummers were only practicing for the liars' tournament.

GOOD PRICE FOR COAL.

PADUCAH COAL AND MINING COMPANY MAKES A BIG SALE.

The Paducah Coal and Mining company, which was recently bought out by an Eastern syndicate, but in which Mr. T. J. Flanagan, of the city, is still interested, has just received an order from Chicago for 100 car loads of soft coal at $1.50 a ton. One hundred car loads is 8,000 tons, and $1.50 is considered a good price. The order will be filled at once.

A meeting of the directors of the Nortonville mines will be held at Hopkinsville Monday. They are getting ready to begin mining coal, the demand for it being very great.

VACCINATION CASE POSTPONED

The case against Theo. Lintrell, for refusing to have two children in his charge vaccinated, did not come up for trial today, as the defendant is ill. The case has been set for Tuesday.

STILL INDEPENDENT

Paducah's Marine Ways are not in the Howard Combine.

It Is Reported He Has all the Others and Wants the Ways Here Also.

PROBABLY ONLY A RUMOR.

Yesterday's Courier-Journal says: Speaking of the recent purchase of the Queen City ways at Cincinnati by Captain Ed Howard, of Jeffersonville, Captain James Howard, son of Captain Ed, says: "It is planned by my father to make an extensive repair ways of the Cincinnati establishment. The ways will be improved and enlarged, if occasion requires. We get the yards to destroy the competition in the building of boats. Jeffersonville will be the chief building plant. All the work that can be done there will be put on the home ways. Whenever it is found advantageous, though, boats will be put on the Queen City ways. My brother, Clyde Howard, who is in charge of the ways at Madison, Ind., will divide his time between Madison and Cincinnati. I have heard it said that we are to abandon the Cincinnati ways, but that is without foundation. It cost too much money to be abandoned. We believe it a good plant, and are confident it will prove a paying investment."

It is said that Captain Howard is planning to buy the marine ways at St. Louis and at Paducah, Ky. It is said he has an option on the Paducah plant, but he will say nothing about his plans with regard to it.

Captain Howard now owns nearly all the ways between Pittsburgh and New Orleans. The only one of importance that he has not purchased is the plant at Paducah.

Officers of the Paducah Marine Ways this morning stated that they had given an option on their ways, but are not at liberty to say to whom. Capt. Howard, for all they know, may be back of it. Nothing is known, however, of whether or not any sale will ever take place.

NEW NOMINEES

Several Well Known Men Placed on the Republican Ticket.

Mr. John W. Watts Elected Campaign Manager for the Republicans.

The city Republican committee met last night and placed on the Republican city ticket the names of Messrs. Oscar B. Starks, U. S. Walston and Dr. W. H. Pitcher, in place of Messrs. J. V. Vorle, Henry Kamleitner and J. R. Smith.

These three men are among the best known and most progressive Paducah men. Mr. Starks served in the business men's council a few years ago. Mr. Walston has been a school trustee and Dr. Pitcher is known for his progressive ideas.

Mr. John W. Watts was selected as city campaign manager for the Republicans. He is one of the most popular men in the Illinois Central shops and stands high with everybody.

Indications for Republican success are growing brighter every day. It is practically certain that the entire Republican ticket will be elected in November.

DENIES THE CHARGE.

MR. D. J. LEVY SAYS HE KNOWS NOTHING OF THE "FENCE."

Mr. D. J. Levy, the pawnbroker, was surprised to hear that Whitely and O'Brien, the youths who murdered A. B. Thian at Lexington, had made a statement that he was in a "fence" for disposing of stolen goods. He says he knows nothing of the men, and his store is always open for inspection.

Constable Alex Patton has returned from a trip to Tennessee for his health.

HANGED AT LAST

Jim Buchanan Convicted and Executed in a Day.

He Pleaded Guilty to Two Heinous Crimes and Said He Was Ready to Die Then.

GUARDED BY 200 SOLDIERS

Nacogdoches, Tex., Oct. 18.—Yesterday a week after the commission of his horrible crime, Jim Buchanan, a negro, paid the penalty. During that week every effort has been made to lynch him, but he died by due process of law. A special train bearing the negro arrived here early this morning from the East Texas penitentiary at Rusk. Aboard were 200 soldiers belonging to the five military companies which were guarding Buchanan at the penitentiary, and there seemed small chance for mob violence. Buchanan was hurried to the courthouse and Judge Davis at once assembled the court to take up his case.

In the meantime the citizens had grounded the telegraph lines, cut the telephone wires and torn up the track leading both north and south from the city.

As quick as possible a jury was impaneled to try Buchanan for the murder of Willie Hicks, the young lady he so brutally mistreated before putting her out of her misery.

The jury returned a verdict of guilty with the death penalty within three minutes. The negro was then arraigned for the murder of Duncan Hicks, pleaded guilty and was given the death penalty.

Judge Davis sentenced him to be hanged November 17, 30 days hence, the law requiring that delay. This did not suit the citizens and it was told the court that the negro must be hanged at once—if not by the sheriff, then by the citizens. Buchanan waived the thirty days and expressed a willingness to be hanged instantly and the sheriff put men to work constructing the scaffold in the public square.

The negro mounted it with an air of bravado and when told by the sheriff that he could pray and knelt and said:

"Oh Lord, have mercy on my soul. I am a sinner and must appear before you in a few minutes. Have mercy on my race and its posterity. Forgive me my sins." The black cap was drawn over his head and Sheriff Spradley cut the rope. The body was permitted to hang for four hours before being cut down.

Friday, a week ago Buchanan shot to death Duncan Hicks, a well-to-do farmer living near Attoyao. Mrs. Hicks was also shot to death. Miss Willie Hicks, their daughter, was criminally assaulted, was brutally beaten by the negro and had a gun barrel thrust through her eye into the brain. Sheriff Spradley arrested him and prevented the people of this community from burning him at the stake by lodging about the country for a week.

A RIOT CALL.

TO CLEAR OPERATING ROOM AT OHIOAGO HOSPITAL.

Chicago, Oct. 18.—More than 5,000 cathartic persons tried to gain the privilege of seeing the humanitarian, Dr. Lorentz, operate upon a cripple child at the county hospital, and a riot call had to be turned in to summon policemen enough to hold the throng in check. One thousand five hundred saw the first relay of operations, three in number. At the conclusion of the three the audience was requested to leave in order to make room for another 1,500. The police arrived in time to hurry the task of clearing the hall. Thousands were turned away.

DELAY IN MAKING RULES.

Chief Woods will prepare new rules governing the fire department, but cannot complete the same without the aid of the mayor, who is now ill and unable to be at his office. As soon as the mayor recovers the rules will be complete and put into effect.

THEATRICAL WORLD.

A CARD.

Paducah, Ky., Oct. 18, 1902.
It has come to my ears through a great many reliable sources so often that, although I had made up my mind to ignore it, the frequency of the reports has caused me to take this method of giving publicity to my denial that The Kentucky no longer booked any of its attractions through the so-called syndicate, or in other words Klaw and Erlanger of New York City, and that there would be no good shows here this season.

I am still booking attractions through Klaw and Erlanger and at the same time am booking any attractions that I see fit to independently. This was the case last year and is the case with every manager that books through Klaw and Erlanger. They do not attempt to fill the entire time of any theater, outside of week stunts, and they say to you in their contracts that they will send you what attractions they see and you are at liberty to book the balance of the time yourself.

Every manager that pays his rent must have attractions regularly at his theater. He cannot give all $1.50 shows; he must have medium priced shows as well as the stars and high class attractions. Another thing that enters largely into the calculation of a season's bookings is the fact that a great many of the larger attractions do not come South until the latter part of November and from that time on until the 1st of March, consequently the early part of the season has to be filled, and for that reason medium priced attractions are always welcomed by local managers early in the season.

To show how utterly false the reports are I wish to state that only today I received the contracts from Klaw and Erlanger for one of the best attractions of the season, the Grace Cameron Opera company in "A Notorious Wedding," a company of 100 people, who will be here for Thanksgiving day. I also received through Klaw and Erlanger yesterday contract for Rice's "Show Girl" for early in December. In fact, among other attractions I may mention having received through Klaw and Erlanger only recently:

Sonsa's band.
A. G. Field's Minstrels.
West's Minstrels.
"Colorado."
"The Christian."
Otis Skinner in "Lazarre."
"Way Down East."
Howard Kyle.
Adelaide Thurston.
"Arizona."
Viola Allen in "The Eternal City."
"At the Old Cross Roads."

And a great many more I could mention, and in the attractions previously played, both "The Wrong Mr. Wright," "The Peddler's Claim," and Helen Grantly were sent me by Klaw and Erlanger, and the "wise, knowing ones" who have so kindly stated that I have not had a good show this season nor would have one can find a great many persons that are not so wise that "they know it all" that will tell them that there have been no better shows seen at The Kentucky than Harry Beresford in "The Wrong Mr. Wright" or Helen Grantly in "Her Lord and Master."

Very truly yours,

Coming attractions at The Kentucky: Monday night, "At the Old Cross Roads;" Thursday night, "The Diamond King;" Friday night, "A Gambler's Daughter;" Monday night, October 27, and all week, Howard Dorsett company in repertoire.

In "At the Old Cross Roads," which will be presented here for the second time Monday by Arthur C. Alston's company of players, we are promised one of the most idyllic dramas of the always picturesque sunny South. The charming atmosphere allows of some pretty scenic embellishments, which the management has taken full advantage of. A brief outline of the plot of "At the Old Cross Roads" shows that the play is a surprisingly interesting and intense story of life. One Parepa, an orphan upon the estate of Dayton Thornton; Annabel Thornton, the heiress to Magnolia Grove; Dayton Thornton, its master; Tom Martin, of Myrtle Fern plantation; Doo Kerr, a steamboat gambler on the "Ole Mississipp;" the "Count de Money," from everywhere; "Young Mississipp;" Liza's Moses in de bull-rushes; Major Bradley Ferrar, one of the old line; George Chilton, the coroner; Madge Thornton, a daughter of Dayton's by a former marriage, and "Ole Aunt Eliza," one of the Thorntons, are the characters that go to make up the mimic life of the romance. The cast is a most excellent one and is again headed by Estha Williams, who scored such a pronounced hit in the same role last season, and James M. Brophy, one of the best known romantic actors on the American stage. Manager Alston has added as an extra and special feature for the season the "Bachelor Club Quartet," one of the most expensive vaudeville headliners for the past three seasons. The engagement of this company is arousing a great deal of interest and the indications are that the sale of seats will be very brisk.

Successful actors of today are close students of human nature, never allowing any peculiar phase in their surroundings to pass unnoticed, thus adapting new and original ideas; applying the same, where permissible, to roles in which they appear on the stage. Mr. Edwin Southern, who is starring this season in "The Diamond King," is one of those admirable students, and notwithstanding his many years' experience in both Shakespearean and romantic characters, always finds something of new and vital interest to infuse into his stage role for the benefit of the play and public. He comes to The Kentucky Thursday night.

The new melodrama, "A Gambler's Daughter," proved a tremendous hit during its recent first production in Chicago, and it goes without saying will prove one of the most, if not the most attractive dramatic offering of the season when it is produced here at The Kentucky on Friday night. The piece, as it will be given in this city, will be the same elaborate production in the personnel of the company and its wonderful scenic effects as was given in the original Chicago engagement. Like the brook, Sonsa seems to "go on forever," and the announcement of his coming concert tour will be received with pleasure. This will be the sixth trans-continental tour that Sonsa has made since the organization of his band ten years ago, and in twelve weeks he will visit 125 of the principal cities of the country. Sonsa will be welcome when he brings his band here soon.

Mrs. Carrie Nation will be heard at The Kentucky Wednesday, November 5. That Mrs. Nation is a great lecture attraction no one will deny. She has been so prominent in the newspapers the past year that everyone knows of her skill in saloon smashing and will want to hear her talk, whether they believe in her way of doing business or not.

WAINWRIGHT RELIEVED.

CAPT. BROWNSON TO ASSUME COMMAND AT ANNAPOLIS ACADEMY.

Annapolis, Md., Oct. 18.—Commander Richard Wainwright has received his orders from the navy department, Washington, detaching him from the position of superintendent of the naval academy and ordering him to report on November 3 to the United States cruiser Newark, and assume command thereof. Commander Wainwright will leave here on November 1, and his successor Captain W. S. Brownson, will arrive here on November 3 and assume the duties of his new assignment.

BRIDE FROM KENTUCKY.

Macon, Mo., Oct. 18.—John Massengale, one of the wealthiest bachelor farmers and a prominent stockman of Macon county, was married yesterday to Mrs. Parloe Massengale of Kentucky. The groom is 60 years old and the bride, who is the widow of the groom's cousin, is 41. The ceremony was performed while the couple were seated in a buggy.

The civil term of circuit court begins Monday and lasts until December. There is a large docket.

ROMANTIC WEDDING

Young Lady Rescued From a Burning Boat to Wed Rescuer.

She Lives in St. Louis and the Groom Resides in Memphis, Tenn.

The marriage of Miss Minnie Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Williams of 2216 Blenden place, and Mr. Herbert L. Haintaine of Memphis, Tenn., which is to take place October 23, will add the culminating chapter to a brief but romantic incident says the Saint Louis Globe-Democrat. The man who is to lend Miss Williams to the altar once guided her safely through the dark waters of the Mississippi river, after she had leaped overboard to escape death by burning. Last Christmas eve Miss Williams was a passenger on the steamer Sun, which plied between Memphis and Fulton, Tenn. She had been visiting relatives in Memphis for some time previous and she and a young lady cousin had accepted an invitation from her uncle, Captain Mott Cunningham, owner of the Sun, to make a round trip on the boat. The voyage takes two and a half days and the vessel was just ready to weigh anchor at Memphis on the return when fire was discovered in her hold.

The scene that followed was given wide publicity in the newspaper at the time. A number of passengers burned to death, while others, seeking to avoid the fire, jumped into the water and were drowned. Miss Williams jumped, clad in scanty attire. She was having a fierce struggle with the waves when Mr. Haintaine, who had also been a passenger on the steamer, went to her rescue. With great difficulty he managed to reach shore. Relatives then took charge of her, and she lost sight of her rescuer for the time.

After this thrilling incident, however, Mr. Haintaine took occasion to call upon Miss Williams and the two often discussed the memorable voyage on the Sun. Soon other topics entered into the conversation and finally the engagement was announced.

MOTHERS.

Who would keep their children in good health, should watch for the first symptoms of worms, and remove them with White's Cream Vermifuge. It is the children's best tonic. It gets digestion at work so that their food does them good, and they grow up healthy and strong. 25c at DuBois, Kolb and Co.

DEATH IN CALLOWAY.

Mrs. Peter Rowlett, aged 88, died yesterday at her home near Marry from dropsy. She was one of the best known ladies of that section, and leaves the following children: J. G. and Peter Rowlett, Mrs. Marberry, Mrs. Sanders, Mrs. Parham, Mrs. Kirkland and Miss Renie Rowlett.

Continued.—A person engaged in active business life is apt to become careless in regard to getting regular hours. I found that after six years of activity in the rush of daily life, I had become very irregular regarding my meals, often eating my breakfast meal late at night, after the hurry of the day was over. I soon found myself suffering with dyspepsia, which gave me much unpleasant hours. As my health had grown more and more delicate, I could hardly realize that I needed attention as a sick woman. I was advised to use

Dr. Caldwell's (Laxative) Syrup Pepsin

by one of my colleagues, and I sent for a bottle, wishing to give it a trial. I am pleased to say that I found it a most efficacious remedy. Within six weeks I was well once more, and heartily endorse your medicine for stomach troubles.

THE TAVERN.

The Tavern is bright and warm and gay. And the travellers laugh as they sit at play. Priest and courtesan, lady and lord, Crowd together the gaming-board; Jester and judge see the red wine brim— Outside the roads are far and dim! The Tavern talk is loud and high, Honors and jealousies, minstrelsy, Politics, pleasure and, loud above, The dominant note is a cry for love; Yet each to his neighbor a mystery still— Dark is the night across the sill! Each comes alone to the Tavern old, Some in tatters and some in gold; Each goes hence on his lonely way, 'Tis of his rage or his doublet gay; Each steps alone on the wide threshold— Outside the night is black and cold! Life greets the guests at Tavern door; Death speeds them forth to return no more; With the stirrup cup that all must drain, The last dark brow of tears and pain, Death touches his lips to the bitter rim— Outside the roads are far and dim! —Ethel Watts Mumford, in Lippincott's Magazine for October.

MISS WALLERSTEIN AND R. FINECHRIEBER TO MARRY OCT. 27

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Wallerstein issued invitations this week to the marriage of their daughter, Miss Mae Cecile Wallerstein to Rabbi William Harold Finechriever of Davenport, Iowa. The ceremony will take place at Temple Israel on Monday, October 27, at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

The engagement of Miss Wallerstein and Dr. Finechriever was announced last October at the wedding reception of an elder sister, Miss Edna Wallerstein, who had married Mr. David Levy of St. Louis, and was a beautiful ceremonial.

Miss Wallerstein is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Wallerstein, and has been out of school only a short while, having graduated with high honor at Washington college, Washington, D. C. She is not only pretty, bright and charming, but has many fine and lovable qualities that add to her attractiveness and make her beloved in a wide circle of friends.

Dr. Finechriever is a scholarly and eloquent young divine, and ranks high among the younger men of the Jewish church. He is not only a student of culture and talent, but is very bright and agreeable socially and has made many friends on his visits here.

PADUCAH GUESTS OF HONOR.

The Nashville Banner gives the following account of a recent brilliant reception in honor of some prominent Paducah people:

"The large reception given by Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Parks added another to the list of the brilliant and successful functions of the fall season. The affair was given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Friedman and Mr. and Mrs. George Wallace, of Paducah, Ky., who are Mrs. Parks' house guests.

"The Parks home is one of the handsomest and most spacious in Nashville and is ideally arranged for entertaining. Its artistic beauty was yesterday enhanced by lavish decorations. Tall palms filled each available nook, and trailing vines and quantities of cut flowers were also used. In the first of the two drawing rooms pink carnations were employed in decoration, and La France roses in the second room. Across the hall, in the library, masses of golden glow were very effective. The decorations of the dining room were exquisite. The room, which is one of the handsomest in the city, contains at the far end a semicircular bay window, which forms a conservatory, which is connected with the main portion of the room by an arch of massive woodwork. The entire apartment was beautifully decorated in palms. Vases tied with bows of white satin ribbons and filled with white roses were placed about the room. The table was in white and green. A tall cutglass vase of white roses occupied the center of the table which was bare save for a lace square over green satin, and the confetti on the table carried out the same tints. The silver candelabra held green candles. A salad course was served the guests in the dining room, and in a small apartment near by a bowl of grape frappe was placed, which was served with wafers by Misses Anna Williamson and Anna Parks.

"Mr. and Mrs. Parks were assisted in receiving by the guests of honor, Mrs. George Flournoy, Mrs. Armour Gardner, Mrs. John P. Campbell, Mrs. W. J. Hill, all of Paducah, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank O. Watts, Mr. and Mrs. George Davison, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Ransom, Mr. and Mrs. Hunter McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eastmann, Mrs. A. J. Baird and Misses Anna and Nell Parks, Kate Ransom, Annie and Williamson and Louise McCarthy.

Mrs. Parks wore pompadour grenade, with trimmings of white chiffon and real lace. Mrs. Phillips appeared in a stunning gown of black jeweled net, with medallions of cream lace. Mrs. Wallace's gown was of white lace, over a slip of pink tulle. Miss Anna Parks wore a striped white silk gown, elaborately trimmed with lace, over green tulle.

BANKERS' BANQUET. A notable affair of this week was the banquet on Wednesday evening at the Palmer house given by the Paducah bankers to the Kentucky Bankers' Association in session here this week. It was one of the handsomest affairs ever given here. There were 150 guests present, and the big dining room was most effectively decorated with palms, smilax and ferns, while out flowers of beautiful variety and profusion adorned the tables. The color scheme of red, white and green was most artistically emphasized. The menu was a most elaborate and excellent one. Dr. J. R. Coleman was the toastmaster and his introductions were especially happy. Clever and witty toasts were given by both visitors and home men. Delightful music was rendered by Prof. Deal's orchestra.

Much of the credit of the successful entertaining of the visitors is due to Mr. Richard Rudy and Mr. James O. Utterback of the entertaining committee. They were indefatigable and have never yet known failure in anything they have undertaken.

U. D. C. MEETING.

The United Daughters of the Confederacy met with Mrs. Louise Maxwell, West Broadway, on Tuesday afternoon. It was a most interesting session, several matters of importance coming before the chapter. Mrs. Victoria Thompson and Mrs. C. E. Lining, who represented the local chapter at the state convention in Newport, made their reports and gave most delightful accounts of the convention and the beautiful reception that was accorded them. Regret was expressed that Paducah did not secure the next state convention, but she only lost by two votes. The chapter voted to adopt the clover leaf emblem proposed, and disapproved the changes in the constitution that would come up before the central body in New Orleans. Three new members were added to the chapter on Tuesday. Mrs. Luke Russell recited very delightfully several of Father Ryan's poems and there was a pleasant social session.

A CHARMING

EUCRE LUNCHEON.

Mrs. Thomas C. Leech gave a charming luncheon on Thursday morning complimentary of Mrs. G. G. Riley of Vincennes, Ind., who is the guest of Mrs. Richard Baser. It was a very charming affair and the artistic luncheon on West Madison street looked most attractive. Mrs. Riley received the guest of honor prize. The first prize was won by Mrs. A. H. Meyers and presented to Mrs. Charles Schooler of Birmingham, Ala. The visitors' prize was won by Mrs. Z. B. Garrard of Greenville, Miss. The luncheon was most delightful by and artistically served.

Mrs. Leech's guests were: Mrs. G. G. Riley of Vincennes, Ind.; Mrs. Z. B. Garrard of Greenville, Miss.; Mrs. M. E. English of New York; Mrs. Charles Schooler of Birmingham, Ala.; Georgia Wood of Lexington, Tenn.; Mesdames I. D. Wilcox, Cook Husbands, Oscar L. Gregory, W. A. Gardner, M. B. Nash, John P. Campbell, A. R. Meyers, Robert B. Phillips, Richard Baker.

A CHURCH RECEPTION.

A pleasant reception was held in the parlors of the Palmer house on Thursday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock. It was given by the vestry of Grace Episcopal church in honor of the Rev. C. H. Lockwood of Helena, Ark., who is their guest, and whom they have called to be rector of the church. The members of Grace church were out in force and a large crowd called during the hours, and the affair was most delightful.

Mrs. Lockwood is a charming gentleman and has made a most agreeable impression on all who have met him. He has been much entertained while here.

DELPHIC CLUB.

The Delphic club held an interesting meeting with Miss Mattie Fowler on Tuesday morning. Mrs. W. E. Cave discussed "Architecture of the Roman Imperial Period—Roman Baths' Harities, and Amphitheater" very interestingly. Mrs. John P. Campbell told of "The Pantheon" very graphically. Mrs. Mildred Davis gave an interesting account of "The Roman House as studied from the best preserved of Pompeian houses—the House of Vestus—Wall decorations." Two vacancies in the club have been filled by Mrs. Edmund M. Post and Miss Ethel Morrow.

A WOODEN WEDDING

CELEBRATION

Very attractive invitations have been received here to the fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil B. Humphreys, of Memphis, Tenn. on Tuesday evening, October 21, at their home in the Lenox suburb of Memphis. The invitations are in birch bark and very suggestive of a wooden wedding. Mrs. Humphreys was formerly Miss Ruth Fraser, one of Paducah's most charming and lovable girls, and her host of friends here have good wishes galore for her and her husband at this anniversary celebration.

AN ATTRACTIVE LUNCHEON.

Mrs. W. M. Rawls entertained with a 12 o'clock luncheon on Friday in honor of Mrs. G. G. Riley, of Vincennes, Ind. The table was most charmingly decorated in crimson and blue, this color effect being artistically carried throughout. Covers were laid for twelve and the menu was most delightful. The guests were: Mrs. G. G. Riley of Vincennes, Ind.; Mrs.

Z. B. Garrard of Greenville, Miss.; Mrs. M. E. English of New York; Mesdames Richard Baker, W. E. McGary, Marie Cobb, Mildred Davis, Elizabeth Austin, C. H. Sherrill, C. E. Lining, L. W. Emery.

COMPLIMENTARY LUNCHEON AT KENTUCKY CLUB

Mrs. John P. Campbell entertained with an attractive luncheon at The Kentucky club on Friday at noon. It was given in honor of Mrs. William Howe of Nashville, Tenn., and Mrs. U. H. Schooler of Birmingham, Ala. An elaborate menu was served and a number of guests were present.

INDUSTRIAL CLUB.

The Industrial club held its initial meeting for the season with Mrs. George Katterjohn on Friday afternoon. It was quite a pleasant occasion, and promised well for the future meetings.

A COMING ENTERTAINMENT.

The young ladies are arranging to give a "White German" in the very near future. The young men will be the guests of honor and it will be quite a swell affair.

EVENING CARD PARTY.

Miss Theresa Yopp entertained very pleasantly at cards on Wednesday evening at her home on West Jackson street. Quite a number of guests were present.

THE COMING WEEK.

Mrs. Armour Gardner will entertain the Magazine club Thursday afternoon, at her country home in Argonia. Announcement had been made that the club would meet with Mrs. Campbell Flournoy, but Mrs. Gardner will be the hostess this week.

The musical club will meet with Mrs. Hubbard S. Wells, 505 Court street, on Monday evening, to reorganize and arrange work for the winter.

The Delphic club meets with Miss Mattie Fowler, 619 Court street, on Tuesday morning.

Mrs. J. C. Flournoy is the hostess of the Magazine club on Thursday afternoon.

The Ootillon club will entertain on Tuesday evening at the Palmer house.

ABOUT PEOPLE.

Mrs. William Hughes left this week for Asheville, N. C., to spend the winter.

Miss Virginia Kianey, of New York city, arrived this week to visit Miss Faith Lamsstaff.

Mrs. G. H. Warneken and Miss Emma Reed and Mr. W. M. Riecke left on Monday for Chicago.

Miss J. O. Treherne of Memphis, is the guest of her sister, Mr. Frank Boyd, of North Fifth street.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Burnett of Louisville, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Mnscoe Burnett this week.

Mrs. Harry Tandy and little daughter, Elizabeth, have returned to Frankfort after a several weeks' visit in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Moequot returned this week from their bridal trip to New Orleans and eastern points.

Mrs. G. G. Riley, of Vincennes, Ind., Mrs. Z. B. Garrard of Greenville, Miss., and Mrs. M. E. English of New York, are guests of Mrs. Richard Baker of North Seventh street.

Miss Maggie Scott, of Charleston, Mo., who is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Peter Burnett of West Broadway, left this week for Paris, Tenn., to attend the wedding of Miss Irma Dumas.

Mrs. William House, of Nashville, Tenn., is the guest of Mr. Robert Becker Phillips at The Pines. As Miss Lae Whitefield of Clarksville, Tenn., Mrs. House has often been a popular visitor to Paducah.

Colonel Edward O. Leigh of Frankfort, was in the city this week. His visits are always flying ones, for he cannot be spared long from the capital, so he is very much rushed while here, by his many friends.

Announcement has been made here of the approaching marriage of Mr. Charles S. Nam, of Howling Green and Miss Fannie Hellman of Louisville. Mr. Nam has visited in Paducah and has relatives and friends here.

Mrs. George H. Dains has returned from a visit to Middleboro, her former home. Mrs. Dains was the guest of honor at several entertainments while there, and her host of friends vied with each other in giving her a cordial welcome.

Mrs. Thomas Corbett and daughter Miss Ruth Corbett are contemplating returning to Paducah to make their home. They have been living in Frankfort for the past several years.

ALDERMEN TO ACT.

It is understood that the board of aldermen will take up at its meeting next week the matter. The Sun yesterday called attention to the ineligibility of the city clerk, who is contractor for the brick street and concrete sidewalk has a five year contract with the city. It is understood that it will be claimed the city has broken its contract with the clerk. The courts have never so decided, and until they do the contract is valid and in force, if the city officials saw fit to enforce it. There are two separate contracts the gentleman has with the city. One is to keep in repair and brick streets, and the other to keep in repair the concrete pavements, for a period of five years.
While the streets have never been received on account of the inferior workmanship and material, the pavements have been, and even if the street contract should be decided void the pavement contract is not, and probably will not be. At any rate neither is now void. The attention of Mayor Yeiser is called to the matter. He now knows that a city official is alleged to have not one, but two contracts with the city, which makes him ineligible to hold office, and the duty of the mayor is plainly laid down in the charter. If he fails to report the facts or allegations to the board of aldermen for its action he fails to do his duty, and is subject to impeachment.

It is time to call a halt on the persistent and arrogant disregard of law by the city officials of Paducah. As long as such men are allowed to remain in office and openly and defiantly ignore the law, just so long will the taxpayers be without any protection.

The only reason the Republican speakers throughout the country are explaining to the people that the Republicans had nothing to do with the coal strike, and are not responsible for trusts, is the fact that the Democrats, desperate for an issue, have been misleading the public on these two matters. The Republican party nor Republican principles had anything to do with the coal strike, but a Republican president was the principal factor in settling it, and has proven that when he starts out to do anything he does it. The only antitrust bill in existence was passed by a

"Let the GOLD DUST twins do your work."

Republican congress and signed by a Republican president, and the Republican administration is the only agency that has turned a hand to regulate or abolish the trusts. The Democrats by their continuous wind-jamming produce nothing but trouble in the country, leaving the Republicans to settle it. Some idea of what the country would come to under Democratic rule can be imagined from the amount of trouble they cause simply by their mouths. If it ever became so they could act there is no telling what would happen.

If the demand for cattle, corn, wheat or anything else is such that the farmer can get two prices for it he does not complain. He blesses the principles of supply and demand, and sleeps well. When he reads about the demand for steel being greater than the supply, however, and that steel and the products of steel have gone up 10 per cent, he begins to denounce the "trusts" and becomes totally blind to such a thing as supply and demand.

The New York Democrats have gone back to Populism. They want the government to own and operate the coal mines. They might as well and consistently advocate government ownership of the lumber, iron or cotton business. The government has about as much as it can do now with the regular round of departments and the Democrats to look after.

One good result of the Sam Jones meeting already noted is the assurance given the ministers of the city by the Illinois Central shop officials that the shops will be closed tomorrow. It remains to be seen whether the other establishments in the habit of running on Sundays will do the same.

In anticipation of the visit of Mrs.
Carrie Nation, it is about time for the saloonkeepers to begin erecting breastworks in front of their places and building backstops to protect their mirrors.

The Sun has no $1.50 convict-made rocking chairs to "give away" to its subscribers at $2.25 each, but it still gives the people the best newspaper in the city and has the circulation.

tion, sounds like a man who got left got it.

The Barnett Estate to Remain Intact
—A Big Tobacco Contract Let
at Fulton.

NEWS FROM OUR NEIGHBORS

Brookport, Ill., Oct. 18—On Saturday last while helping her stepfather haul hay Miss Anna Koon, or Lang as she is better known, was thrown from the wagon and fatally injured. Miss Lang was driving the team when it became frightened and jumped, breaking the ladder, the front part of the hay frame, and throwing her off under the horses feet and passing the wagon over her. After four days of terrible suffering Miss Lang passed away Wednesday.

Mr. M. Whalen, former yardmaster here, now of Argenta, Ark., will move his family back here soon.

Mr. Donald Steele is nursing a crippled knee the result of being kicked by a horse.

Mayor J. L. King and son Carl have returned from St. Louis.

A special election was held Tuesday to ascertain the sentiments of the people regarding the extending of the corporate limits of Brookport. Also to elect a trustee to fill the place vacated by the resignation of Mr. Green. The vote was as follows: In favor of extension of limits 129; against extension of limits 5; for trustee, Frank Faughn 93, John Black 57.

Dr. J. D. Young attended the soldiers' reunion at Carbondale and intended to start from there to Nevada on a business trip, but becoming ill
at Kansas City he was obliged to abandon his trip. He returned to St. Louis where he remained several days until able to resume his journey home.

THE BARNETT ESTATE.

Smithland, Oct. 18—The report of Master Commissioner W. I. Clarke in the big suits involving the estate of Miss Lucy Bennett, who lost her life in the steamer Golconda wreck in April 1901, has been filed in the office of Circuit Clerk J. C. Parsons.

Suits were filed by Messrs. David Adams and L. O. Hibbs against the administrators of the estate to recover several thousand dollars, but if the master commissioner's report is sustained by the circuit and appellate courts it virtually defeats all claims of Messrs. Adams and Hibbs. The Miss Barnett estate is valued at $40,- 000 or $50,000. He recommends that the court reject all claim for rents, profits and interest. He says in his report that out of a spirit of equity he recommends that the $1,000 be allowed L. C. Hibbs, etc., out of the estate provided it is not barred by limitation, but gives it as his opinion that the statutes of limitation bar are covery of the $1,000.

BIG TOBACCO CONTRACT.

Fulton, Ky., Oct. 18—Another Italian tobacco contract has been landed by a Fulton firm. Messrs. Fields Bros. and Co. have been awarded what is known as the Regie contract to supply the Italian government with over 4,000,000 pounds of tobacco, involving a sum of over $300,000. The same firm which is composed of Smith and Lewis Fields and J. W. Lewis held the contract for the same last year and supplied the government with about 4,000,000 pounds. The Italian government is represented in America by Joseph Ferigo of New York. Mr. Ferigo met the Fulton men in Paducah and gave them the contract. There are four contracts of the kind in this section of Kentucky.
Mayfield, Murray, Paducah and Fulton. Griffith and Sherrill have the contract at Mayfield. Mr. J. R. Cunningham of Clarksville, Tenn., is Mr.
Ferigo's manager for this territory and he will move from Clarksville to Pa-

MARRIAGE IN LIVINGSTON.

Smithland, Oct. 18—Miss Mary E.
Lasher, the pretty daughter of Mr.
W. B. Lasher, of Hampton and sister of O. C. Lasher, of the Banner, will next Tuesday be married to W. C.
Baggett, a prominent young business man of Winder, Ga., where she has been teaching for several months. The ceremony will be performed in the Methodist church at that place.

Walter Pierce, one of the leading young farmers of the Salem section,
lost his barn by fire Tuesday night.
The loss is about $1,000 with no insurance.

THE RIVER NEWS.

Observations taken at 7 a. m. River 5.4 feet on the gauge, a rise of 0.1 in last 24 hours. Wind south, a light breeze. Weather clear and warmer.
Temperature 56 Fall, Observer

The Joe Fowler cleared for Cairo
this morning on time.

The Jim Duffey, Jr., is due Tuesday
from Tennessee river with ties.

The Clifton is due to pass out of the Tennessee river tomorrow en route to St. Louis.

The Hattorff is due out of Cumberland river Monday and will leave Tuesday on her return trip.

The Carrville arrived from Dycus-burg yesterday afternoon late and will leave this afternoon on her return trip.

The Richardson is due from Evansville today. She will be a little late on account of a shortage in deck labor.

Mr. J. B. Lord of Chicago, of the firm of Ayer and Lord, returned home yesterday afternoon after a visit to the city on business.

The William Towle arrived out of Cumberland river last night with a tow of ties and went to Cairo this morning to discharge the same.

The Ten Brock went into Tennessee river this morning. She was due to leave Thursday, but laid here several days for a barge that was on the docks for repairs.

The Clyde arrived from Tennessee river last night at 8 o'clock and will depart this afternoon at 5 on her return trip. She will take out an excellent trip of freight.

The Oberlestown is due tomorrow from Tennessee river. She will pass down to Joppy and then return to lay here until Tuesday afternoon, when she will leave on her return trip into Tennessee river.

Harry Proctor of Cincinnati, clerk of the ill fated steamer John K. Speed will take a position as clerk on the steamer Virginia in the Pittsburgh and Cincinnati trade next week.

It was a Cincinnati man, who,

speaking of improving the navigable condition of the Ohio river from Pittsburg to Cairo, said: "The Ohio river will not only be well locked, but it will be the best dammed river in the world."

On application of George W. Phillips, a receiver was yesterday at Memphis appointed to operate the steamers Sun and City of Blahn, owned jointly by Phillips and John Brenner. In the application for a receiver Mr. Phillips names the seasonal allegation that the firm is entirely solvent, but that Mr. Brenner is incapacitated from the management of the boats because of excessive use of liquor.

Captain Sam S. Brown, master of transportation for the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke

company, a director in the company and many times a millionaire, is perhaps the only man in the country who works for a large corporation and refuses to take a salary for his work.
Captain Brown likes to be busy, and the only reason that he does not accept a salary, as his friends say, is because he does not need the money. He draws a large interest from his stocks and bonds in the concern.

Highlander who Speaks Gaelic.
The duke of Athol is one of the few highland chiefs of Scotland who can speak Gaelic. In addition to being able to converse in the classic language he is doing his best to encourage its extensive use. Gaelic classes were, under his influence, held at last winter at Blair Athol, his ancestral home,
and the examination of the pupils showed good results.

best satisfaction giver on our shelves. If you put your feet in them 'tis one time you'll feel no regrets.

Cloaks and Furs

We show the largest and most varied line in this department it has ever been our pleasure to do. If the cloak or fur question is hard for you to solve come see us and 'twill be easy. Garment from highest figures to most modest.

Prices

Have cloaks from $35 down
furs $35 down, Seal jackets $25 to $50.

FALL IS HERE

So fall in line and buy your Fall and Winter Footwear where you can get the best for your money.

GENTLEMEN:

WE may be mistaken when we state we have the most complete line of Shoes in Paducah for men, but our enthusiasm over it is chargeable Anyway, we would be pleased to have you call and see for yourself. 'Tis honestly a pleasure to show such goods as we have.

Just think of Florsheim's, Edwin Clapp and W. L. Douglass! These are the most famous names in the shoe world. We have their complete lines. Then, too, we have our own shoe—a shoe made expressly for us, which costs, to make, more than any other $3.50 shoe on the market. This is our pride—our boast, and we want you to see it. Price only $3.50.

Just drop in in passing and behold the best shoe values in the city.

LADIES:

It is our aim to have the most complete line of Ladies' Shoes, and this time we believe we have struck the bull's eye. We, however, want you to see for yourself, and therefore extend you a cordial invitation to come and let us show you our shoes. A parent is fond of his child, but we are enraptured over our shoes.

For $3.50 we have THE EM-PRESS, our own made to order shoe—a shoe costing more money to make than any other $3.50 shoe on the market.
'Tis very well. Fits like a glove and wears well, always retaining its shape.

For $3.00 We also have another special shoe made of patent leathers, kids and calfs, that will outwear any $3.50 shoe—save the Empress—on the market. We sell this shoe to every one who sees it.

For $2.00 We give you a good,
stylish, long-wearing, guaranteed shoe. If it isn't we give your money back.
We have many others on which we can save you money.

OUR enthusiasm carries us away. However, if you could see these shoes you would carry them, at least several pairs of them, away. Our shoes are not "advertised" shoes. The 25 cents that it costs to advertise the "advertised" shoes is put in the leather in our goods, giving a better shoe for the same money. But come down and let us show you the shoes. We don't care if you don't purchase. We simply want to substantiate our claim of having The Best Line of Ladies Shoes in Paducah.

MARRIED IN MOBILE.

COUPLE IN THE MIDDLETON STOCK COMPANY UNITED THERE.

It is learned from the dramatic papers that Mr. Verrier Phelps, the comedian who was here last season with the La Belle park stock company, and Miss Dora Columbine, who was also with the company the latter part of the season, were married a few days ago in Mobile, Ala., where the company played a week. They are now with the Middleton Stock company, which went out from Paducah the first of the season under the management of Mr. Robb, manager of La Belle park.

—Will Taylor, the canker who took laudanum with suicidal intent a few days ago, fell on Ashbrook avenue in Mechanicsburg yesterday afternoon and it was thought had made another attempt to end his life. Big Packers Trust Launched With a Million Capital.

Expected It Will Be Increased to $500,000,000 in a Short Time.

SHIP LINES TO BE ESTABLISHED

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 18.—Papers have been granted giving a charter to the United States Packing company with an authorized capitalization of $1,000,000. This is the great packers' combination long forecasted and the state department expects the capitalization to be increased shortly to $500,000,000. The charter is similar to that of the United States Steel corporation. That company was given a small capitalization when its charter was obtained. No one of the companies to be absorbed by the meat trust is named in the charter granted today, nor does any of the big meat dealers appear among the incorporators, who are clerks in a Jersey City corporation agency. The charter given the United States Packing company power to "buy, sell, breed and deal in cattle, sheep, poultry, game, fish and all kinds of livestock."

The company can "establish, erect or purchase markets and butchershops and deal in all kinds of meats, poultry, fish, game and other things incident to meat, poultry or fish trade."

Provision is made for operating ship lines and vessel lines and other lines of transportation. Further powers are given to "acquire and undertake the good will property, rights and assets and the liabilities of any person, firm or association, and to pay for these rights in case, stock or bonds of the corporation or otherwise."

The company is empowered to conduct business in any of the states, territories or colonies or dependencies of the United States, in the District of Columbia, and any and all foreign countries. The combination has been coming for some time, and it is said that the capitalization will be increased in amount in the steel corporation only. The companies included, it has been said, will have among them the concerns of Swift and Co., the Armour, the Oshay company and Schwarzhild and Schnitzerger.

J. W. Oshay, it is said, will be at the head. The reports have been that Kuhn, Loeb and Co., of New York, were financing the combination.

GOVERNOR YATES.

ILLINOIS OFFICIAL TO VISIT METROPOLIS NEXT WEEK.

Metropolis, Ill., is preparing to go into gala attire to welcome Governor Yates, of Illinois, next Friday, October 24. He will arrive there at 7 p. m. and have headquarters at the Julian hotel, where he will receive callers. In the evening he will speak at 7 p. m. at the court house.

Deputy U. S. Marshal George Sanders returned from Mayfield today.

THINKING MADE EASY.

THERE IS A WAY.

"I asked husband to get some Grape Nuts, the ready cooked food. He brought them at noon, and I served a dish for dinner, for I thought what was good for breakfast was good for any other meal. Well! do you know we did not eat half so hearty of the meat, potatoes, etc., after eating the Grape Nuts. It filled that vacancy which the regular fare did not."

"The 'newspaper puff' as I used to call them—I know better now—are not one hit too strong—are not strong enough—for steeper nerves, better complexion, increased endurance and a renewed reserve fund of strength are now mine, and I cannot be too thankful. I can walk five miles without one-half as much loss of strength as when I formerly walked one."

"If, in cleaning house and numerous other back breaking toils we women must do, we would all prepare a dish of Grape Nuts instead of the old time 'cup of tea to brace up on.' One would soon see the difference."

"I have found, since using Grape Nuts, that mental occupations, which months ago were taxing and fatiguing are now real pleasures. I can think steadily, and with such ease. By putting a spoonful of Grape Nuts in a cup of good, rich Postum, I have a drink fit for a king." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

BLACK ROCK

By RALPH CONNOR

"Great, noble fellows they are and extraordinarily modest," he said—"that is, the really great are modest. There are plenty of the other sort, neither great nor modest. And the looks to be read! I am quite hopeless about my reading. It gave me a queer sensation to shake hands with a man who had written a great book. To hear him make commonplace remarks, to witness a faltering in knowledge—one expects these men to know everything—and to experience respectful kindness at his hands."

"What of the younger men?" I asked. "Bright, keen, generous fellows—in things theoretical omniscient, but in things practical quite helpless. They toss about great ideas as the miners hump of coal. They can call them by their look names easily enough, but I often wonder whether they could put them into English. Some of them I coveted for the mountains, men with clear heads and big hearts and built after Sandy McNaughton's model. It does seem a sinful waste of God's good human stuff to see these fellows potter away their lives among theories, living and dead, and end up by producing a book. They are all other making or going to make a book. A good thing we haven't to read them. But here and there among them is some quiet chap who will make a book that men will tumble over each other to read."

Then we paused and looked at each other. "Well," I said. "He understood me. 'Yes,' he answered slowly, 'doing great work. Every one worships her just as we do, and she is making them all do something worth while, as she used to make us.'"

He spoke cheerfully and readily, as if he were repeating a lesson well learned, but he could not tumb me. I felt the heartache in the cheerful tone.

"Tell me about her," I said, for I knew that if he would talk it would do him good, and talk he did, often forgetting me, till, as I listened, I found myself looking again into the fathomless eyes and hearing again the heart searching voice. I saw her go in and out of the little red tiled cottages and down the narrow back lanes of the village; I heard her voice in a sweet, low song by the bed of a dying child or pouring forth floods of music in the great new hall of the factory town near by, but I could not see, though he tried to show me, the stately, gracious lady receiving the country folk to her home. He did not linger over that scene, but went back again to the gate cottage where she had taken him one day to see Billy Brent's mother.

"I found the old woman knew all about me," he said simply enough, "but there were many things about Billy she had never heard, and I was glad to put her right on some points, though Mrs. Mavor did not hear it."

He sat silent for a little, looking into the coals, then went on in a soft, quiet voice:

"It brought back the mountains and the old days to hear again Billy's tones in his mother's voice and to see her sitting there in the very dress she wore the night of the league, you remember—some soft stuff with black lace about it—and to hear her sing as she did for Billy, Ah! Ah!"

His voice unexpectedly broke, but in a moment he was master of himself and begged me to forgive his weakness. I am afraid I said words that should not be said, a thing I never do except when suddenly and utterly upset.

"I am getting selfish and weak," he said. "I must get to work. I am glad to get to work. There is much to do, and it is worth while, if only to keep one from getting useless and lazy."

"Useless and lazy?" I said to myself, thinking of my life beside him and trying to get command of my voice, so as not to make quite a fool of myself, and for many a day those words goaded me to work and to the exercise of some mild self denial. But more than all else, after Craig had gone back to the mountains Graeme's letters from the railway construction camp stirred me to do unpleasant duty long postponed and rendered uncomfortable many hours of most luxurious ease. Many of the old gang were with him, both of lumbermen and miners, and Craig was their minister, and the letters told of how he labored by day and by night along the line of construction, carrying his tent and kit with him, preaching straight sermons, watching by sick men, writing their letters and winning their hearts, unking strong their lives and helping them to die well when their hour came.

One day these letters proved too much for me, and I picked away my paints and brushes and made my vow unto the Lord that I would be "useless and lazy" no longer, but would do something with myself. In consequence I found myself within three weeks walking the London hospitals, finishing my course, that I might join that band of men who were doing something with life or, if throwing it away, were not losing it for nothing. I had finished being a fool, I hoped, at least a fool of the useless and luxurious kind. The letter that came from Graeme in reply to my request for a position on his staff was characteristic of the man, both new and old, full of gayest humor and of most earnest welcome to the world.

Mrs. Mavor's reply was like herself: "I knew you would not long be content with the making of pictures, which the world does not really need, and would join your friends in the dear west, making lives that the world needs so sorely."

But her last words touched me strangely:

His sure to be thankful every day for your privilege. * * * It will be good to think of you all, with the glorious mountains about you and Christ's own work to your hands. * * * Ah, how we would like to choose our work and the place in which to do it!

The longing did not appear in the words, but I needed no words to tell me how deep and how constant it was, and I take some credit to myself that in my reply I gave her no tidings to join our band, but rather praised the work she was doing in her place, telling her how I had heard of it from Craig.

The summer found me religiously doing Paris and Vienna, gaining a more perfect acquaintance with the extent and variety of my own ignorance, and so fully occupied in this interesting and wholesome occupation that I felt out with all my correspondents, with the result of weeks of silence between us.

Two letters among the heap waiting on my table in London made my heart beat quick, but with how different feelings, one from Graeme telling me that Craig had been very ill and that he was to take him home as soon as he could be moved. Mrs. Mavor's letter told me of the death of the old lady, who had been her care for the past two years, and of her intention to spend some months in her old home in Edinburgh, and this letter it is that accounts for my presence in a miserable, dingy, dirty little hall running off on a close in the historic Cowgate, redolent of the glories of the splendid past and of the various odors of the evil smelling present. I was there to hear Mrs. Mavor sing to the crowd of gauds that thronged the closes in the neighborhood and that had been gathered into a club by "a fine fiddle from the west end" for the love of Christ and his lord. This was an "at home" night and the mothers and fathers, sisters and brothers, of all ages and sizes, were present. Of all the sad scenes I had ever seen those mothers, cried the saddest and most wretched "Heaven pity us!" I found myself saying. "Is this the beautiful, the cultured, the heaven exalted city of Edinburgh? Will it not for this be cast down into hell some day if it repeat into its closes and their dens of debilitation? Oh, the utter weariness, the dazed hopelessness, of the ghastly faces! Do not the kindly, gentle churchgoing folk of the crescents and the gardens see them in their dreams, or are their dreams too heavenly for these ghastly faces to appear?"

I cannot recall the programme of the evening, but in my memory gallery is a vivid picture of that face, sweet, sad, beautiful, alight with the deep glow of her eyes, as she stood and sang to that dingy crowd. As I sat upon the window ledge listening to the voice with its flowing song my thoughts were far away, and I was looking down once more upon the eager, grimed faces in the rude little church in Black Rock. I was brought back to find myself swallowing hard by an audible whisper from a wee lassie to her mother:

"Mither! See till you minn. He's greetin'!"

When I came to myself, she was singing "The Land o' the Leal," the Scotch "Jerusalem, the Golden," immortal, perfect. It needed experience of the hunger haunted Cowgate closes, chill with the black mist of an eastern haze, to feel the full bliss of the vision of the words:

"There's nae sorrow there, Jean; There's nae care, nae care, Jean; The day is aye fair in The Land o' the Leal."

A land of fair, warm days, untouched by sorrow and care, would be heaven indeed to the dwellers of the Cowgate.

The rest of that evening I was happy enough to me now till I find myself opposite Mrs. Mavor at her fire, reading Graeme's letter. Then all is vivid again.

I could not keep the truth from her. I knew it would be folly to try. So I read straight on till I came to the words: "He has had mountain fever, whatever that may be, and he will not pull up again. If I can, I shall take him home to my mother." When she suddenly stretched out her hand, saying, "Oh, let me read!" and I gave her the letter. In a minute she had read it and began almost breathlessly:

"Listen. My life is much changed. My mother-in-law is gone. She needs me no longer. My solicitor tells me, too, that, owing to unfortunate investments, there is need of money, so great need that it is possible that either the estate or the works must go. My cousin has his all in the works—iron works, you know. It would be wrong to have him suffer. I shall give up the estates. That is best."

She paused.

"And come with me," I cried. "When do you sail?"

"Next week," I answered eagerly. She looked at me a few moments, and into her eyes there came a light soft and tender as she said:

"I shall go with you."

And so she did, and so old Romain in all the glory of a triumph carried in prouder heart than I as I bore her and her little one from the train to Graeme's carriage, crying:

"I've got her!"

But it was the better sense, for he stood waving his hat and shouting, "I've got her!" at which Mrs. Mavor grew white, but when she shook hands with him the red was in her cheek again.

"It was the cable did it," went on Graeme, "Graeme's a great doctor. His first case will make him famous. Good prescription after mountain fever try a cablegram!"

And the red grew deeper in the beautiful face beside us.

Never did the country look so lovely. The woods were in their gayest autumn dress; the brown fields were bathed in a purple haze; the air was sweet and fresh with a suspicion of the cooling fronts of winter. But in spite of all the road seemed long, and it was as if hours had gone before our eyes fell upon the white manse standing among the golden leaves.

"Let them go!" I cried as Graeme paused to take in the view, and down the sloping dusty road we flew on the dead run.

"Reminds one a little of Abe's curves," said Graeme as we drew up at the gate, but I answered him not, for I was introducing to each other the best two women in the world. As I was about to rush into the house Graeme seized me by the collar, saying:

"Hold on, Connor! You forget your place. You're next."

"Why, certainly?" I cried, thankfully enough. "What an ass I am!"

"Quite true," said Graeme solemnly. "Where is he?" I asked.

"At this present moment?" he asked in a shocked voice. "Why, Connor, you surprise me!"

"Oh, I see!"

"Yes," he went on gravely; "you may trust my mother to be discreetly attending to her domestic duties. She is a great woman, my mother."

I had no doubt of it, for at that moment she came out to us with little Marjorie in her arms.

"You have shown Mrs. Mavor to her room, mother, I hope," said Graeme, but she only smiled and said:

"Run away with your horses, you silly boy!" at which he solemnly shook his head. "Ah, mother, you are deep. Who would have thought it of you?"

That evening the manse overflowed with joy, and the days that followed were like dreamland to sweet music.

But for sheer will delight nothing in my memory can quite come up to the demonstration organized by Graeme, with assistance from Nixon, Shaw, Sandy, Abe, George and Baptiste, in honor of the arrival in camp of Mr. and Mrs. Craig, and in my opinion it added something to the occasion that after all the cheers for Mr. and Mrs. Craig had died away and after all the hats had come down Baptiste, who had never taken his eyes from that radiant face, should suddenly have swept the crowd into a perfect storm of cheers by excitedly seizing his toque and calling out in his shrill voice:

"By gar! Tree cheer for Mrs. Mavor!"

And for many a day the men of Black Rock would easily fall into the old and well loved manse, but up and down the line of construction, in all the camps beyond the Great Divide, the new manse became as dear as the old had ever been in Black Rock.

Those old wild days are long since gone into the dim distance of the past. They will not come again, for we have fallen into quiet times. But often in my quietest hours I felt my heart pause in its beat to hear again that strong, clear voice, like the sound of a trumpet, bidding us to be men, and I think of them all—Graeme, their chief, Sandy, Baptiste, George, Abe, the Campbells, Nixon, Shaw, all stronger, better, for their knowing of him, and then I think of Billy asleep under the pines and of old man Nelson with the long grass waving over him in the quiet churchyard, and all my nonsense leaves me, and I lean the Lord for all his benefits, but chiefly for the day I met the missionary of Black Rock in the lumber camp among the Selkies.

A NEEDLE IN HEART.

Ox Which Lived with Its Vital Organ Pierced Through.

Medical Experts Marvel at Discovery Made on the Killing of the Animal—Condition Was Deemed Impossible.

Medical science of Chicago is astonished over the discovery of a needle in the heart of an ox killed at Swift & Co's packing house. It is the first foreign substance ever known to have found place in the heart of a living animal. The needle had been there for at least seven months, according to the statement of local physicians, before it was discovered. The animal seemed to enjoy the best of health at the time he was led to the slaughtering pen.

The organ with the needle embedded in the muscles is now in the possession of a local medical college. It is to be taken before the Cook County Medical association for special examination and discussion. It has been photographed and eastern colleges and associations have requested it be sent to them for further investigation and study.

When the discovery was made several days ago the heart was taken directly to Dr. Frances Dickinson and she examined it, in company with Dr. Evans, pathological expert of the Cook county hospital. It was then placed in alcohol, and since has been regarded as the greatest curiosity of the age among medical men.

"The needle, after having worked its way through the animal's flesh," said Dr. Dickinson, "entered the heart at the top near the aorta. It evidently traveled through the muscular part of the heart the entire length to where it was found imbedded near the bottom. The tissues about the heart were hardened and incised, showing that it had been stuck there for many months. The fact that the needle worked its way through the heart by remaining in the muscles saved the ox from death. It is a remarkable discovery and probably the only one of the kind on record."

MME. WU IN WASHINGTON.

Her Daughter, Miss Daisy, Will Be Introduced to Society During the Winter.

Bundled in furs and silks until they resembled nothing so much as rolls of rich cloth, Mme. Wu, the daughter, Miss Daisy, and the two young women of high caste, who constitute her suite, arrived at the Chinese legation at Washington early the other morning. With them came half a score of servants and almost a car load of baggage.

Minister Wu and all the members of the legation were at the station to bid Mrs. Wu and her young charges welcome. As they were assisted from the train everybody tried to talk at once, except the imperious minister himself, who, after singling out his wife and affectionately greeting her, stepped to one side and shook hands one by one with the young women who accompanied her.

His daughter, Miss Daisy, who is as dainty as a picture on a silk fan, greeted the minister, and then began looking out for the comfort of her mother. The daughter will be formally introduced to society at a dinner and dance in the near future. When Miss Wu and the members of her mother's suite are introduced formally to society it is expected that the affair will even exceed the magnificent functions usually given at the legation. This is the first time in the history of the Chinese legation that young Chinese women of high caste have ever been brought to this country for the purpose of entering society.

KAISER'S NEW YACHT.

Has Been Ordered in America and is Taking Great Interest in Most Minute Details.

The Kaiser, having now ordered a new racing yacht in the United States, takes the utmost interest in all the details concerning its progress, says the Berlin correspondent of the New York Herald.

His majesty is firmly convinced that the Americans build the fastest sailing boats.

It is known that whenever the Kiel regatta has been discussed the emperor has usually let out the suggestion that Americans with yachts would always be welcome there.

He would like to see a fleet of American yachts appearing at the Kiel regatta this coming season, thus adding importance to the meeting and showing his rich German subjects what they might do with their money in the way of beautifying water palaces, for his majesty is constantly inclining his richer people to buy boats and thus stimulate the sailors' profession, from which to recruit in time of need for his navy.

California's Orange Crop.

Careful and conservative estimates of the orange crop of Southern California for the season 1901-02 indicate that it will be from 15 to 20 per cent. less than that of last year and, with normal climatic conditions, the fruit will be of excellent quality. There is the usual variance in these estimates, however, an optimistic view being that the crop will equal or exceed that of last season. F. Q. Storey, president of the Semi-Tropic Fruit exchange, thinks this season's crop of citrus fruits will be a trifle less than 20,000 carloads, or about 80 per cent. of that which was shipped last season.
